NOVEMBER 4, 1995

There is a deep sadness when the leader of any country is assassinated. When Yitzhak Rabin died a friend called and asked "How could this happen? Where were The Lords Of Light? Why didn't They stop this thing?"

The tragedy in this situation is that it was a Giver Of Light that permitted it. The man who killed Rabin had been for many years, influenced by The Prophet Moses, and used as a spokesman to bring his views to the living. Several times this young man thought of killing, but Moses always calmed him, and had him speak out, instead.

But as of late Moses has been so angry with the current so-called peace process in Israel, that when this young man thought of killing again, Moses did not impede him.

Rabin was killed and then as he entered The Spirit Realm, rejected by Those he thought would praise him.

Rabin was once a great leader. He fought valiantly for Israel, but as the years passed he became tired of the struggle, began to listen to Dark Voices, the promises of a false peace, and began to betray the dream of his people, to give in to tyranny...to give those who had murdered and tortured his people the land their sons and daughters had fought for.

Those Who Had Gone On Before could not control Their rage. Moses had barely said to me that he might again destroy Israel, when he unleashed this horror. We pray some solution can be found that will appease The Old Ones before Israel is plunged into a civil war, its enemies take advantage of its weakness, and destroy it.

It is ironic, Anwar Sadat was murdered by The Darkness, and he was welcomed to The Spirit World with praise. Rabin has been destroyed by a Keeper Of Light and now weeps in the shadows for what might have been.

Why do good men surrender to tyranny?

We never have enough room in VOICES. There are always many more that want to speak than we have space for. Lily O'Donnell, of The Messenger, 1936 SW 63 Terrace, Pompano Beach, FL 33068, has been publishing our very interesting articles from The Nazarene, which have covered and hopefully will cover many more important subjects. But Moses would also like to have a forum to speak through, and so oftentimes, would Muhammed. We squeeze them in when we can but many interesting topics are lost because of lack of space. If any publications out there would be interested in running a series of articles from these Great Religious Leaders, do get in contact with us. For They have many important things to say.

A SPIRITIST SPEAKS ABOUT THE AWAKENING

We have mentioned in previous articles The Awakening and, as we have not clarified what this is for some time, some of our new readers have been justifiably curious and have asked us to again explain what The Awakening is.

Approximately 500,000 years ago two alien societies, survivors of a tragic intergalactic war, arrived on Earth and established colonies here. One group tried desperately to keep the peace, but the other plotted treachery. And, in a final battle all the aliens except for a tiny few that resembled humans perished. The few survivors quickly became absorbed into human bloodlines, and fell into barbarianism.

Human bodies and minds were too primitive for these extra terrestrials to be reincarnated into, so for all these centuries they have been waiting for mankind to evolve to the point where they could again take on living form. That time has now arrived.

With each passing year more and more of these alien entities are taking on human form. In time there will be billions of them. They will make up, with their human allies two-thirds of the world's population. They will be two-thirds of the population of every country, every state, every province. They will be two-thirds of every religion.

But they will not long keep the religious views prevalent now. Instead, they will begin the rebirth of their own religion, Spiritism. After this is accomplished they will work on their goal of returning the Earth to the people that it rightfully belongs to, and, returning to the stars where they truly belong.

With the permission of their human allies they will keep some settlements on Earth, but their main goal will be to reach out first to the planets of the solar system and make their homes there, then, as space travel becomes more advanced, reach out for the stars.

Only a handful now, are awake, not all of these fully understand their mission. But in the years to come that will change, a new order, an Old Way will come back into the world, and much that now plagues it will disappear because The Children Of The Lords, The Children Of The Light will not think in terms of political power and economic expediency, they will make their decisions on rather something is right or wrong, just or unjust.

Greed and hatred will be outlawed, and those who use it for power will be dealt with harshly. And those who would simply live in peace with others will find themselves unmolested.

This will not come about in an hour, in a day. But it will come about because understanding immortality The Children Of The Light have all the time in the world. After all They have waited 500,000 years.

THE SPIRITS SPEAK

This is an interview with the Spirit of Queen Isabella Ist of Spain. The questions were provided by Speaker Linda J. Polley and the answers channeled through Speaker Gerald A. Polley.

1. Did it upset you that your husband considered your achievement as Queen to be because the gentlemen of Spain considered you beautiful?

A. No. I was a realist. I knew as a woman, I had to use what I had to accomplish my goals.

2. Was your brother murdered so he could not become King?

A. That might have had something to do with it; another very good reason that he was cruel and sadistic, and had made several enemies. If he'd been of good character the kingship may well have been his.

3. Is it true you chose your husband purely on a political basis?

A. Well, it had a great deal to do with it. Several other prospects were more powerful but they were also considerably older and known to be aggressive with their ladies. I think I chose wisely in picking who I did.

4. Did you come to love your husband?

A. Love is a term that is greatly misused. I came to highly respect and honor my husband, and though we had our differences at times this respect and honor was returned. I do not think you would call it love in the modern sense, but we were compatible.

5. Is it true Ferdinand had three illegitimate daughters by his mistresses?

A. Oh, good Lord, that number could probably be doubled, or, even tripled. And there were several boys in the mixture. I let it pass because he did not interfere with MY pleasures, and when we were together provided me all the comfort I needed. A good wife takes circumstances into consideration. One cannot change what is. As long as one is being treated fairly it is best not...what is it you say?....to rock the boat?

6. Why did you turn down Columbus' request for support towards his trip then suddenly change your mind?

A. We all make mistakes. I saw a shooting star going towards the west, a very bright and beautiful one. I took it as an omen from God. May the people of the Americas forgive me that I was in error. It was the work of darker beings.

7. How do you feel now about taking over all those lands to convert to Christianity?

A. As I said, we all make mistakes.

8. What did you do when you discovered the Pope's permission for Ferdinand to marry any cousin he wanted was a fake?

A. Had a good laugh and carried on! I believe later on somebody was strangled for that little maneuver, but it was not really my doing.

9. You were so brave, even having a miscarriage while going to support your troops in battle! What do you think of women rulers today?

A. There is a vast difference between courage and stupidity. If my cause had been just, perhaps I could be praised for those things I did in its fulfillment, but as I violated God's graces, all that I did has little meaning.

10. Did you actually appoint the two inquisitors and an advisor in 1480?

A. There is a slight difference between appointing and permitting, but it is so small as to be meaningless.

11. Was the fate of your family and yourself due to natural causes in the way of things, or the results of your dealings in The Spanish Inquisition as a punishment, or, curse?

A. A bit of both. One cannot be separated from the other.

12. Are you pleased with modern Spain?

A. Becoming more pleased. It still has some problems and some arrogance to deal with, but it is improving.

13. Why did you request this interview?

A. Some look upon me as a hero. I must make them understand I was a tragic failure. One cannot imagine what it is like to stand before God and be condemned, when one thought they had spent their whole life serving God. But when The Lord spoke to me and said 'Why have you stolen my property, burned my houses, beaten me, raped my wives and my daughters?'

And I answered 'Lord, I have done none of these things.' But He waved His hand and showed me the tribulations of the Jews being expelled from my land, and The Lord said,

'Do you not know when you do these things to the least of mine, you do them also, unto me? You have listened to the counsel of a Dark One, of a thing of evil, a thing filled with the greeds and lusts of men, who promotes the religion of man, not of God.

You have put my people out of your land, and in doing so you have put me out of your heart. Go. There is no place for you among those that love me.'

'But Lord!' I cried, 'I was promoting Your Church, Your Glory!'

And The Lord looked at me, saying, 'God has but one Church, but one Glory....Israel. Have you forgotten I am a Jew?'

At that moment I knew I was lost. And I must now spend eternity making amends for the evil I have done. Already I have suffered more than once as one of The True People, even to die in the chambers of death with my sisters, to make amends for that error that I made.

I speak to others to warn them. Follow God's Path, not the way of man. Do not let The Dark Ones pit you one against the other, that they may destroy you for their own purposes. Listen not to the ways of man, but listen with your heart to The Ways Of God. Do not find yourself spending eternity trying to win back what was yours. Do not throw away your Eternal Life.

14. What do you do now in The Spirit World?

A. Well, right now I am just waiting to journey again. When the battle comes I will be fighting for Israel against those who will try to devour it. I will fight for God's true people, not those who have usurped His Glory and turned It into a thing of shame. Some day a young warrioreess will greet you in Israel. She will be I.

Our March interview will be with the Spirit of Saint Patrick, the patron Saint of Ireland and one of the most prominent religious historical figures in the world. If you have any questions for him or, any other Spirit that has been interviewed in VOICES feel free to send them any time. We also welcome suggestions for future interviews. If you'd like a list of all Spirits that have spoken in Voices, send your name, address, and return postage to the address on the cover.

Paula Barbiari has left O.J. Simpson. There was talk of marriage then all of a sudden she's deciding she wants to be elsewhere. Could Nicole's haunting be having results? What has Paula seen? What has she heard? What has come into her dreams? She will probably never say, and we will be forced to always wonder.

JANUARY'S SPIRITS SPEAK

CHARLES SHERWOOD STRATTON

January 4, 1838 to July 15, 1883

This great gentleman better known as General Tomb Thumb, perhaps the most famous dwarf in history, came to my Worker when we made it known that we would like him to make some comments. These are his words.

"I was invited to the houses of many people, at first, because I was an oddity. But I was invited back again because they found I was a man of intelligence, honor, and dignity. I always consider my greatest treasures those people who called me friend. I believe the greatest tribute ever paid to me was the man who said upon hearing of my death "He was small of stature, but had the Soul of a giant."

I ask all men to be as wise as him, and see not what is without a person, but to see that which is within."

This was the end of the General's comments, but we thank him for them, we thank him for them indeed.

January 15, 1929 to April 4, 1968

This great colored leader has come to me on several occasions lately deeply troubled by what has been happening with his people. He was deeply depressed by the O.J. Simpson verdict and on hearing reports of where other colored men had been found not guilty of serious crimes by juries when they knew they were guilty merely as an expression of their disfavor with the judicial system and police behavior. He was also seriously troubled by the recent march on Washington. He fully supports its purpose but was disturbed that it was called by a man who has openly preached hate for years. He does not believe his people should have answered the call of such an individual. He fears his people are beginning to listen to the Dark Voices and not to the Light. He wanted, himself, to make some comments, but his Spirit was too troubled to put his feelings into words. SO he asked me to make this summary of our conversations and to beg his people not to

DIVINE CONNECTIONS?

We recently received a copy of DIVINE CONNECTIONS. Back in September we sent an article for their readers informing them that Ashtar Command has been devastated and their planned arrival on Earth has been canceled.

The magazine's publisher, Mary Lynn, wrote back saying, "I appreciate your offer to write for Divine Connections- but it doesn't feel like it's the right avenue for your expression. We are not so interested in information....only Love and Becoming...the inside work. We all have different paths...and different beliefs tho they all lead us home."

Going through the magazine we found material supposedly channeled through their workers from individuals we've been in contact with for some time. So I decided to ask Them if they'd had anything to do with these people Here are Their responses.

THE PLEIADIANS- Actually another name used by The Ashtar Command. A common practice of theirs that if one operation fails to have a secondary one in position to move in.

GOD- Now as God in essence, is a symbolic thought in The Spirit Realm for the Universal Soul I cannot really comment. All have access to this vibration on one level or another. So it is possible these individuals are picking up the racial desires of their brothers and sisters, and interpreting them as messages from a Divine Being.

ARCHANGEL GABRIEL- Actually there are several Gabriels running around in The Spirit World who have served mankind for some time. But all of them say they haven't had any dealings with members of this organization and suggest that it might be an Ashtarian Spirit impersonating them.

JESUS- Jesus' response to our inquiry was just a sad shaking of His head, which we take as a negative response.

ST. GERMAIN- St. Germain's response is a hearty laugh. "They still pushing that Light business? he asks, "Or are they on something new? They must have another St. Germain. It isn't me!"

ARCHANGEL MICHAEL- The Archangel Michael was the Heavenly aspect of Jesus, and has not been functioning since Jesus' incarnation in human form.

ARCHANGEL RAPHAEL- We have not heard of the Archangel Raphael, though when the call was put out a Haven did appear answering to that name. He says he has not communicated with human beings for centuries. He had heard some of them were still mentioning his name but through no work of his own. "I am enjoying what humans would call a vacation," he announced, "and do not intend to be into things until the third or fourth generation of The Awakening! Whoever it is, it isn't me!"

ASHTAR- Anyone who has been reading our magazine the last few months knows of the tragedy with the Ashtar Command. Though some of their operatives are still working on Earth under the belief that they would still arrive, that belief is a false hope. The Ashtarian threat to Earth has ended.

KABU- A TRANSFORMER- I have run into Kabu before. He is one of those mischievous irritating Spirits that likes to lead foolish Souls along. It is unfortunate that there are Souls that simply enjoy creating confusion.

ARCHANGEL URIEL- Uriel is a very poor pro-

DECEMBER 29, 1994

We have received word today that the situation at the Ashtarian Capital has been brought under control. The radioactive fires were contained and the reactions brought down to a level where they could be dumped into the sun.

All radioactive material on the site has been methodically removed, practically with an inch by inch search so that the ground is now safe for Ashtarians to venture across without any harm, whatsoever. This work was done by members of The Galactic Community that were not bothered by the intense radiation, some of whom actually thrive in it.

My suggestion that the Ashtarian government be housed in a space station orbiting above the original Capital has been accepted. One race of The Galactic Community has even given the Ashtarians a disused space station that will only take a few months to bring to full operation.

The Ashtarians are still terribly disoriented and not used to people freely giving their time and material to them. Some are actually resentful of The Galactic Community's aid. But the majority are beginning to show genuine appreciation and gratitude and the bitterness of the recent conflict seems to be quickly fading.

There has been one negative incident, however. A member of the family that recently committed suicide went berserk on the outpost where he was stationed, killed the crew at the air refreshing station, and destroyed it and killed several others to keep it from being repaired until he, himself was killed. Fortunately, there were several large ships of The Galactic Community in the area that were able to land at the outpost and keep its atmosphere at a breathable level until the refreshing system was repaired.

Only twenty-three lives were lost in a situation that could have been far worse.

FEBRUARY 12, 1995

I have been anxiously waiting for word on the Ashtarian situation. The silence of the last few weeks has almost been as bad as the constant reports of disasters. But I have finally received word that things seem to have finally quieted down.

The Ashtarians are busy establishing their new capital, getting their government up and running, and rebuilding their records system. There have been a few scattered suicides and one security guard at a financial institution did go berserk and wound several people, but fortunately no lives were lost.

There has been one odd incident but we do not think it is related to the recent troubles, but is just an oddity. Twelve members of one of the Ashtarian outposts vanished without a trace during a standard sleep cycle. A twenty-seven minute gap was found in all security recording equipment and on each of the missing individual's bunks was found a sheet of platinum, gold, and silver, each imprinted with symbols which have never been recorded by any members of The Galactic Community. Nothing else in the outpost was disturbed. It is one of those strange incidences that might forever remain unexplained.

FEBRUARY 22, 1995

We have received word that the planet blown up by its people during the trouble with the

Ashtarians is still causing problems. The fragments accelerated beyond the speed of light by the explosion are beginning to slow down and drop back into normal space. Several have appeared in highly populated and advanced systems doing considerable damage, as they pass through still at high speed.

One small fragment appeared near an inhabited world that has not yet reached a highly developed state and plunged into its atmosphere, disintegrating to dust and covering one continent in a toxic cloud that destroyed all living organisms dwelling there.

Fortunately the toxicity broke down after a few hours, and will not go on to poison the entire world.

The Galactic Community is making a tremendous effort to predict the paths of this volatile matter and be waiting in any systems where it might appear to deal with it promptly. Fortunately Earth is not in the path of this spreading destruction. All the pieces will drop back into normal space in a hundred years or so, long before any would reach here.

The Ashtarians have sold off vast sections of their territory to help gather the remaining survivors of the devastated race, and reestablish them on a suitable world they still possess.

The Galactic Community has offered to assist in funding this effort, but the Ashtarians have refused, saying 'this is our shame and we, alone, must do all that is necessary to make it right.'

MARCH 21, 1995

It is with deepest concern that we hear of the gas attack on the Japanese subways, as it has come to our attention that these were operations Ashtar Command had planned, to destabilize the Japanese government after their landings so their associates on Earth could go in and take this country over on the pretext that they were going in to reestablish order and, to save lives; a frequent excuse the Ashtarians use for their conquests.

What is even more frightening is that the same records show The Ashtarians also planned to attack nuclear power plants in Japan if their first operations did not produce the desired results.

The Japanese authorities seem to have been able to locate those responsible for the gas attacks. Let us pray they have neutralized enough of the Ashtarian operation to stop them from carrying out phase two!

80. Were the accusations against your Indian servant the Munshi true? Why was it so hard for people to accept him?

A. Oh, Lord Polley, why can't people see someone for his talents and good heart rather than the color of his skin? How long must people be put away and turned down because their skin God happened to give a different hue? This good man was as great or greater than any servant I ever had. Yet, others were jealous of him and tried to turn me against him because he was not of the white race. Will the ignorant never awaken from their folly? Can we not ever become one people as Our Father In Heaven intended? I pray, still, that it will be so, but my heart is troubled by the sins of man.

81. How can you condone the British Wars of conquest in Africa? Such a bloody butcher as Rhodes in South Africa, and others in the north?

A. These conflicts started for just and noble causes, but some of these courageous men were overpowered by greed and instead of protecting the African people exploited them. As I have said it was moral decay that destroyed the British Empire.

82. Why were you really against electric lights?

A. You, if anyone, Lord Polley, would understand that they interfered with my ability to communicate with Albert. Therefore if at all possible I would not be in any place that had them.

83. Keiser Willhelm was so attentive at your death I believe it showed a sincere love for you. How did the tragedies of 1901 affect you?

A. The question is, how did they affect HIM? They were not a burden on my Soul that kept me from the Place that had been prepared for me. His suffering grieved me. But it was brought upon himself. It is such that a good man can be led astray and into bad habits by the greed of wicked men around him.

84. Did you approve of your funeral after all?

A. Well, having not much to do with it, really I did not linger to observe it, as some do which I think is a silly practice. But I understood my wishes were carried out and that is all that is important. Children who do not carry out the last wishes of their beloved are evil, indeed, even if they are wishes disagreeable to them, they should be honored. I find no excuse for them not being.

85. It must have been fairly easy for you to "pass over" considering your interest in Spiritualism. Was Prince Albert there to greet you?

A. He was not only there to greet me, he was there to comfort me in my last hours. I parted from my flesh long before my tired old body ceased to breathe.

In The Spiritist Republic prostitution was legal, though it had some very strict Laws governing it. Prostitutes were required to take health tests every 16 months. No one could be forced into prostitution by threat of death, or injury to themselves, or anyone dear to them. To do such was a crime punishable by death.

Those operating bordellos or employing prostitutes who went to private dwellings could take no more than 25% of the prostitute's earnings, nor could they force a prostitute to buy clothing or products from them or any merchants they chose. A prostitute was free to purchase their needs from wherever they wished.

For medical reasons prostitutes were required to keep a list of all persons they did business with. Any attempt by a prostitute to extort money from their customers by revealing their names and addresses was met with the severest punishment; up to life imprisonment.

Any person giving a prostitute a false name and address would also be severely punished. It was strictly forbidden for prostitutes to serve members of their own sex. Any persons forcing a prostitute to do this received the sentence of death.

These Laws were designed to protect the prostitute and the public.

In The Holy Godden Empire prostitution was illegal among the common people. The High Born, however, and The God Family had access to female slaves, usually the wives and daughters of the condemned whose lives were spared. This was allowed because under Godden Law these women were already dead, therefore, The Lord God and his relatives could use their physical form for their pleasure. These women were usually very bitterly used, and when they became too old to be pleasurable were quietly executed.

Some were lucky, and bought by nobles to become wives, but this was a rare occasion.

Sometimes, when the negative vibrations in the world seem to be defeating our efforts to bring Spirits' Messages through, and putting a damper on the Awakening even we feel like giving up. It was like this a few weeks ago just after the O.J. trial, when a dear friend of ours just 'happened' to send us the following material that gave us an extra boost of hope and describes exactly why we keep VOICES and our Work going. This listed no author, but we wanted to share it with you so you may understand why we keep our little Light shining in The Darkness.

"An old man walks on the beach where thousands of starfish are stranded and he sees a girl throwing them back into the water, one by one. And he says to her, "It's useless. You'll never be able to throw them all back. What does it matter?"

But the girl holds up the one in her hand and says, "It matters to this one. That's what keeps me going."

"Gie me ae spark o' Nature's fire,
That's a' the learning I desire."
-Robert Burns (1759-1796)

The tragedy with Yitzhak Rabin disturbs me greatly in many ways. But one thing especially troubles me. For years Moses has been promising me financial support and manpower. He has whispered to some of his followers who have been in contact with us over and over again to rally to us, but they have turned a deaf ear to that joyous Voice Within.

How sorrowful these people will be in years to come when they meet with their Patron and he says "Why did you not go when I spoke to you?" They will make all kinds of excuses but Moses will hear none of them, and say, "If you did not hear me then, you will not hear me now. There is no place for you among my people. Go and dwell with others if you prefer to hear their voices."

How sad these Souls will be. Yet when Moses wished to let a man be destroyed one of his servants without hesitation, destroyed that man.

How sad it is, how terribly sad, that it is so much easier to destroy than build. That a man is more than willing to give a cause his life, but few are willing to give it their dollars.

Perhaps this is the saddest statement on human values.

The other day I got a call from station KALL, Salt Lake City. And in the course of the conversation we got talking about our interview with Brigham Young, among other things. That evening as I slept Joseph Smith and Brigham Young came to me asking me to assure their people that there shall always be a place for the Mormon faith in the world.

Though some errors will have to be removed put into the faith by men seeking power and wealth, the basic principles of Mormonism will endure and even grow.

The Givers of Light have promised that some day Salt Lake City will be the capital of an independent Republic called Zion, and the Mormon people will also have settlements in other parts of the world which they will have dominion over with consent of the native populations.

The Teachings of Joseph Smith will not pass from the world, but become part of the rising of The Light, become part of the fulfilling of the dreams.

This is what is promised to the children of Salt Lake and to the children of the world.

No one knows exactly how these things will come to be, but someday they will be.

continue down the path they are following.

"We must not," he begged, "become like those we have so long struggled against. We must not in the name of race, allow our children to do evil."

I have done my best to convey his thoughts and pray my effort is adequate.

"I for my own part, having learnt of late Those hateful to us we are not to hate As though they might not soon be friends again, Intend to measure, now, the services I render to my friend as if not so To abide for ever; for of mortals most find friendship an unstable anchorage. "

-Sophocles (496?-406 B.C.)

Sadly we have little faith that the Bosnian peace treaty will endure. Too much has been given to the Serbs. They will only use this period of peace to re-arm, resupply, and re-deploy, as they do not actually believe that the forces of the world will make a concerted stand if they really put up a fight. Unfortunately they are probably right. But let us pray that some day mankind will learn that they cannot insure peace by forgiving the aggressors, and appeasing them.

The people in Spirit who have suffered on both sides cry out for justice, and there will never be a true and lasting peace until their cries are heard and justice is done. By putting it off we only make the final reckoning far more terrible than it should have been.

The weakness of our politicians, especially American politicians, is peace at any price, as long as we don't have to pay it. A Karmic debt is building up on The United States that some time in the future is going to have to be paid and the paying will be bitter if we do not mend our ways.

nunciation. It should be Ariel, who informs us of no connection with these individuals. JOHN THE BELOVED- Well, we don't know which particular John they're referring to so we asked both The Baptizer and The Apostle, and both said "Not me!"

MARY- The Mother Of The Nazarene informs us that she has had no dealings with these individuals. She has been far too busy with her work in Asia. But she does hope the messages they are giving in Her name are positive ones.

It is pretty obvious to us what we have here is a group of Ashtarian Spirits channeling information through these individuals, making them believe the information is coming from Earthly Spirits supporting their efforts to take over and guide Earth's affairs. From studying their other conquests and their operation's plan captured after their destruction we have come to believe that this was rather standard practice in their operations.

Those contributing to Divine Connections probably sincerely believe in what they are doing, but they are being manipulated by forces that have or had sinister motives, which fortunately will not be realized. I would not suggest to our readers that they pay the $22 a year for four issues. They are not getting anything of value! It's well intended but falls short of the intent.

Jim & Louie called the other day from WKBR, Burlington, VT and they asked the same old question I've been asked a thousand times....why doesn't Spirit help me use my abilities to manipulate the stock market and become incredibly rich?

This would be as unfair and dishonest as a stock broker using inside information to enrich himself. Such ideas are tempting to many, but those who attempt to do them soon find their abilities gone, because those who bear The Light never allow their workers to take advantage of others. I find it really strange that people cannot understand this simple truth.
